TENNESSEE CONFERENCE.

Fourth Day—Statistics of Church Property—Impressive Memorial Services.

Special Report for the Union and American.

GALLATIN, Oct. 10.—The Conference was opened this morning, Bishop Marvin in the chair, with religious services conducted by Rev. R. M. Rivers, D. D., and the ministry of the day was read and approved. The attendance was quite large, many members having come in since the day previous.

On Monday of W. M. McCarthy, a committee of three—R. A. Young, D. C. Kelly and Wm. M. McCarthy—were appointed to prepare and have printed the proper blanks for the use of the Conference.

The Committee on Church Property presented their report, from which we make the following summary:

Churches..... 137

Parsonages..... 405

Value of Churches..... $300,000

Value of Parsonages..... 95,000

Value of other church property..... 65,000

The Conference adjourned at a quarter to 10 o'clock, the members of the Conference to attend to the memorial services of deceased brethren. The members of the Conference then proceeded in a body to the Presbyterian Church, where a large assemblage had assembled. The interest manifested was very great, all seeming to recognize the importance of the occasion which called them together.

Bishop Marvin called the Conference to order, and announced that this was a memorial session held in honor of Brothers Pitts, James to Nashville, an entire stranger, to the late year.

Rev. W. H. Warren opened the exercises by reading the 90th Psalm. Rev. S. M.

McIntosh, D. D., then read the 75th

THE EXPOSITION.

Another Big Show to-morrow—

Further Notices of Displays.

There was a liberal attendance at the Exposition yesterday, from the opening of the doors in the morning and a large crowd at night.

The Hermitage school visited the Exposition in a body during the afternoon.

A considerable interest is manifested in the poultry show which comes off to-morrow. It promises to be the largest display of fowls ever seen in the State.

We continue our notes on display:

LADIES' FURNISHING GOODS, COBBERIES,

HOOP SKIRTS, ETC.

The principal attraction for the ladies, on the north side of the promenade gallery, is the handsome upright case of D.

Loewen & Co., filled with everything comprising a lady's toilet, including the most beautiful ready made gowns, ladies' and children's undergarments, trims, and the best French embroidery.

It is by the aid of the enterprising business men like the firm of D. Loewen &

Co., that the Exposition is a success.

Loewen & Co. had every merchant in the city forwarded and contributed their share as liberally as they have, and we would be boast of the largest and most successful

Exposition in the country. Mr. L. J. Loewen a member of this firm, is also one of the directors of the Exposition, and is untiring in advancing its interests, and in making the firm to which he belongs rank second to none in the South in their line of trade.

The firm makes a specialty of white and black goods, and carry the largest and best selected stock in the city. Their assortment of ladies' furnishing goods, black silk, black velvet, black and white, is very large, and is held at very reasonable figures. They have an established reputation for the manufacture of the most elegant undergarments for ladies, and their stock is a distinctive feature of their large establishment, and are probably distributing the largest business in this line of any house in the South. Their enterprising department is another feature of their business, and they have a large force constantly engaged filling orders. A new feature of their business is the introduction of the way of zephyr worsted, patterns for embroidery, etc.

D. Loewen & Co. are probably the largest importers of goods in the South, and they keep on hand the largest assortment of different styles to be found west of New York. They continue the manufacture of hoop skirts on a large scale, turning out the latest and most fashionable patterns. Their trade in this line of goods is very extensive, and they are constantly receiving orders from all over the southern country.

In contrast with many firms who have displayed on exhibition a few of their products in order to get a sale, D. Loewen & Co. display the quality, price, etc., of the goods in their building, and by this means they are able to secure a large trade in making many sales of differ-
